

Helmut Klemperer
BERKELEY RESEARCH GROUP, LLC
1800 M Street, NW, Second Floor | Washington, DC 20036

Direct: 202.480.2657
hklemperer@thinkbrg.com

SUMMARY

Helmut Klemperer has over 10 years of experience in litigation consulting in antitrust economics, intellectual property, and calculation of damages. Mr. Klemperer has managed projects related to alleged price fixing, exclusionary conduct, and tying, particularly at the class certification stage. His expertise relates to the design and management of quantitative analyses using large and complex databases in support of expert testimony. To this end, Mr. Klemperer has worked closely with attorneys and law firms to collect, produce, and build a thorough understanding of relevant data from their clients, as well as from third parties.

Mr. Klemperer's experience includes a range of industries including medical devices, title insurance, aviation, microprocessors, tobacco, gasoline, and chemicals.

EDUCATION

M.B.A., Finance	The George Washington University, 2000
B.S., Economics	The George Washington University, 1997

PRESENT EMPLOYMENT

Associate Director; Berkeley Research Group; 2011 – Present

PREVIOUS POSITIONS

Senior Management Consultant; LECG, LLC; 2001-2011

SELECTED CONSULTING EXPERIENCE

- Support expert with the development of overall case strategy, creation of project lists, preparation of materials to be produced in connection to expert report, and preparation of expert for deposition
- Interaction with clients and attorneys to comply with specific requests for production of data, including data production from third parties

- Replication and evaluation of the merits of Plaintiff experts' data analyses
- Supervision of creation and auditing of exhibits in connection to expert report
- Analysis of financial models used in the calculation of damages arising from breaches of contract and monopolization claims